

NHS Hospitals continuing to use 084 phone numbers

Directions from government

On 19 December 2009, Directions to NHS Bodies concerning the cost of telephone calls were issued by the Department of Health. These included the following specific requirement:

“to ensure that, having regard to the arrangement as a whole, persons will not pay more to make relevant calls than they would to make equivalent calls to a geographic number”

- “the arrangement as a whole” means considering all callers.
- “ensure” means not allowing callers to have to decide, or be misled, about costs.

All calls to all 084 numbers include a Service Charge of between 2p and 7p per minute to the benefit of the person called. Telephone call providers may add their own Access Charge - current examples from leading providers include cases of an Access Charge of over 30p per minute.

A summary of call costs from the major providers is published at this link.

Non-compliance

The deadline for compliance with these Directions was 21 December 2010. Identical requirements were imposed on contracted GPs with a deadline of 1 April 2011.

Use of 084 telephone numbers in the NHS should have ceased by now, in accordance with the statement by the then Health Minister on 14 September 2009.

“We want to reassure the public that when they contact their local GP or hospital, the cost of their call will be no more expensive than if they had dialled a normal landline number.”

The offenders

The following list is of NHS England Hospitals which continue to use 084 telephone numbers, in direct breach of the Directions. (Others have belatedly moved to compliance over the last 2 years.)

Some seek to confuse or mislead callers, who are may not be experts on relative call costs, by offering alternative numbers and even inaccurate cost information - compounding the offence.
